

Rossella Rossi
Mediterranean Glimmers
Lavoir Vasserot - Saint Tropez

9 - 15 May 2024

Promised Land 1

Oil on Canvas 2020 180x200cm

The exhibition born from a poetic and immersive journey between fiction and reality, an Ode to the Mediterranean nature, where the boundaries between the sea, the land, and the sky disappear... Saint Tropez is the twin of Varigotti, a fishing village where Rossella grew up. This region has always accompanied her. Located on the edge of the Mediterranean, in Liguria, a land of horizons, salt, and rocks, it is a place both isolated and at the center of the world. Varigotti is inscribed in time by abolishing the boundaries between the present and the past, where light reigns supreme. Thus St Tropez naturally asserts itself, a link between Mediterranean cultures echoing the world.

Rossella's desire is to share her Mediterranean emotions, to connect spectators with the vibrancy and energy of the sea, the impulses of the land, and the effervescence of the sky. Traveling through her dreamlike universe, color pulsates, trees iridesce, the sky and the sea dance in a passionate embrace.

Presenting a large number of her latest oil paintings, mosaics, and a few sculptures, this particularly dense exhibition multiplies the ways of presenting her works, notably through an immersive installation that will invite the public to take the time to sit and immerse themselves in the paintings covering all the walls of the exhibition, in a poetic reverie.

The gallery's reception area will also showcase lithographs and books by the artist.

Rossella Rossi

Rossella was born and raised in Liguria, Italy. A researcher at CNRS in molecular biology for over 15 years, she shifted her focus to painting in 2009 and studied at the Paris and Milan schools of Fine Arts. Rossella Rossi lives and works between Paris, Milan, and Liguria.

She is regarded as a leading artist in the realm of figurative discourse. Throughout a career spanning more than twenty years, her practice has centered on her almost existential attachment to the element of water, nature, and the mysteries of the physical and metaphysical presence of the human body and maritime landscapes.

She has an original approach and treatment of the nude, employing pictorial strategies that utilize natural light to evoke a sense of fusion between the human figure and its environment. Whether on canvas, in oil, or acrylic, her painting draws on the symbolism of water to transport the viewer into the infinite world of sensations and suspended moments.

Her first monograph, "L'eco dell'acqua" was published by the Roanne de Saint Laurent Gallery in 2020, followed by "Mediterranean Impulses" in 2021, "(Aside)" in 2022, and "Closer to the Light" in 2023, with presentations concurrently at the Roanne de Saint Laurent Gallery.

Her works are part of important public and private collections worldwide.

Roanne de Saint Laurent Gallery

This exhibition is presented under the auspices of the ROANNE DE SAINT LAURENT Gallery, established since its inception in 2019 at 66 Avenue Kléber in Paris.

Located near numerous museums (such as the Museum of Modern Art, Palais de Tokyo, Musée Guimet, Musée Marmottan, Musée Galliera...), art centers (Fondation Vuitton, YSL, Musée Baccarat...), some museums and institutions regularly exhibit works by most of our artists (Rimer Cardillo, Rossella Rossi, Loïc Allemand...).

The gallery always operates in the "primary market": it regularly organizes individual exhibitions, featuring around thirty works, as part of a long-term policy of promoting, supporting, and accompanying artists.

We publish books, lithographs, and catalogs for most of our artists, available at the gallery. We also send regular newsletters to our collectors and remain very attentive to the creation of young artists.

The gallery's offerings have diversified in recent years, notably through the organization of conferences, workshops, and concerts.
